VIOLATING THE LAW.

Popocratic Executive Committee Attempting to Assess Postmasters.

Notwithstanding the fact that the United States laws make it an offense punishable by a fine of $1,000 to assess government employees for contributions for campaign purposes, the Executive Committee of the Popocratic organization is doing that very thing.
Through its Secretary the Committee has sent letters to every postmaster in the county "assessing" them certain amounts to assist General Warner, J.
D. Payne and some others in carrying on the campaign for free coinage, repudiation and a 53 cent dollar.

The letter opens with the phrase "in accordance with our usual custom during the presidential campaigns," and is sent "to the various postoffice holders throughout the country, fixing a reasonable assessment on all postmasters, to assist in defraying the expenses of the campaign. The executive committee this year is particularly handicapped in its work by lack of funds, and no successful work can be carried on without some co-operation from you from whom we believe we rightfully expect some reasonable and substantial assistance.

Your assessment is therefore fixed at ten dollars; which amount is due and payable at once to me or to the treasurer. We trust you will not disregard this matter, but will send in your remittance at once; and if possible be with us the next regular meeting of the Executive Committee, Tuesday evening, Oct. 18th. Please extend the courtesy of a reply."

The missive from which the above is quoted was type-written and addressed to the postmaster at Lower Newport.
It created somewhat of a sensation when it came into the hands of the Republican committee. There is no doubt of its authenticity whatever and it may be inspected by anyone interested.

It was certainly a nervy trick intended to secure $800 or $1000 for use at the polls on election day. It shows the straits in which the Popocratic organization of this county perceives itself, notwithstanding the fact that the head of the American Bimetallie League resides here, and by virtue of his office, is supposed to have money to burn. It will, of course, fail utterly as a device for raising money, as there is probably not a postmaster in the county ignorant of the law on the subject.

Republican Meetings.

Thursday evening, 15th, Cow Run, C. A. Leland and W. H. Leeper.
Friday evening, 16th, Deming's School House, C. A. Leland.
Saturday, Oct. 17th. Remember the Little Hocking Barbecue.

I. O. G. T. Notice.

All members of Marietta Lodge No.
509, I. O. G. T., are earnestly requested to be present at their next meeting to be held at their lodge room in Mills Building Friday evening at 7:30, standard time.

A notable feature of the November McClure's will be the interesting story of the introduction and development of the daguerreotype in America, illustrated with beautiful original daguerreotype portraits of Webster, Edward Everett, Jenny Lind and others, from the rare collections of Peter Gilsey, of New York, and Josiah J. Hawes, of Boston.

EVERYBODY GOES.

Arrangements All Made for the Big Barbecue at Little Hocking Saturday.

The Committee appointed to arrange for the Marietta Republicans to attend the big Republican gathering and free dinner at Little Hocking next Saturday have practically completed their work. The B. & O. S. W. Ry. has agreed to provide train accommodations for 1,000 people at a round trip rate of 25 cents. They will run a special train, leaving this city at 9 o'clock a. m., arriving at Little Hocking about one hour later. Returning, the train will leave at 5 o'clock p. m., arriving in Marietta at 6 o'clock.

The crowd will be accompanied by the Marietta band and is expected to be one of the largest delegations in attendance. A free dinner has been provided for 2,500 people, but the ones who will take along a few sandwiches to provide against a possible shortage of supplies. Prominent speakers will be present and the addresses promise to be of a very high order in argument and eloquence.

Watertown.

Mr. Van Voorhis and Mr. E. R. Alderman gave the most sensible talk on the political issues of the day in our village last Friday evening we ever heard, and on the following evening Dr. Ames and Mr. A. L. Smith entertained as large an audience on the same subject. The Doctor thinks the farmers are a terribly oppressed people and his whole talk was concerning the poor laboring class, how they are held in bondage. As the Doctor drove here from Marietta he certainly could not but notice the thrill and enterprise of the farmers.
As many as a score of new dwelling houses, and good ones too, capacious barns, fat cattle, and sleek horses. We referred him to the depositors of the Dime Savings Society, the farmers and the common laborers you can find by the hundreds. We think it much better to encourage than discourage, speak words of comfort instead of telling us we are going to the Devil. Give us Major McKinley for President, it will restore confidence. Adjust the tariff to the needs of the people, resume reciprocity with foreign nations and it will cause the Doctor and Mr. Smith to grin from ear to ear and us poor farmers to smile all over.

Mr. D. D. Breckenridge, who got hurt in a railroad wreck near Athens, is getting along nicely.

Miss Bertha Cooksey has been visiting friends here.

Greene & Meister are sawing a set for Mr. Martin Wagner.

Our young people organized a reading circle. J. E. Breckenridge is president.

Wheat all in and the best of weather for its growth. R. W.

Pine Grove.

Owing to the rainy weather last week the farmers are backward with their wheat sowing.

Quite a number of the people of this place attended the speech at Porterfield last Saturday. Mr. Garfield occupied the stage.

Miss Carry Lowery, teacher at this place, spent Sunday at Parkersburg.

Mrs. Robert C. Conley went to Marietta last week to visit her sister, Mrs.
Sevens.

Mr. Mike Joyce is attending High School at Porterfield with J. H. Barnhart as professor.

Quite a number of small children are having the mumps, but not severely.

Mr. Bennie French, of Frost, O., is visiting relatives here, Mr. Daily Watson and family.

Mr. Thos. Dixon, of Lower Decatur, was the guest of his friends, Miss Carry Lowery and Mr. Daily Watson, last week.

Mr. Bob Conley and family spent Saturday in Parkersburg, W. Va.

Mr. T. E. Burnfield is at home.

Mr. Jas. Watson, who has been keeping a grocery store at this place, has given up his business on account of hard times.

Pine Grove nine and Corner nine crossed bats at Corner last Saturday.
They stood 14 to 15, in favor of Corner.

Can This Be True? If so, Good Bye, Bryan!
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12.—W. D. Bynum, Chairman of the Sound Money Democratic Committee, is authority for the statement that Candidate Bryan's tour of the country on a special train is more or less of a money-making scheme.
It appears that in Indiana, Iowa and North and South Dakota, either the boy orator of the Platte or his traveling managers have been sand-bagging the silver Democrats of smaller towns through which their train passed for sums ranging from $50 to $300.

HELD UP FOR BOODLE.

Communities who refused to pay the sums demanded were deprived of the privilege of hearing Bryan speak. It is known that the little town of Noblesville, Ind., had to raise $150 before the manager of the train would consent to permit it to stop at all. A demand was made on Logansport, Ind., for $300 in order to have the train stop, but Logansport was slow to take advantage of the offer, and the amount was subsequently cut down to $50. A telegram from Aberdeen, received this morning, states that $300 was exacted from that city before Bryan would consent to exhibit his oratorical powers from the rear of the sleeping-car.

Lindsay-Davis Wedding.

The smartest and grandest nuptial event that has happened in Marietta since many a year was the wedding of Miss Jessie Davis, eldest daughter of Senator and Mrs. Theo. F. Davis, at their beautiful home on Fourth street.
The Davis home had been gay for ten days or more prior to the wedding, with a house party of merry girls, close friends of the bride; and the wedding was the event of all events talked of by everyone.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. John Boyd, in St. Luke's Episcopal church, at 8 o'clock, p. m.
The church was elaborately decorated with palms, ferns, smilax and fall naemone. Church and aisles were spread with duck, and the place bore all the signs of a happy wedding event.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mr. C. R. Stevens, bridesmaids to the number of six appeared from the rooms to either side of the chancel, and they marched down the middle aisle where they met the bride, her father and her maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Hotchkiss, of Cleveland. Preceded by the six ushers the wedding party approached the chancel, where the groom, his attendant, Mr. J. A. Aull, and the rector were in waiting. In the very impressive ceremony of the Episcopal church the two were made one, and to the glad time of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the party left the church and entered their carriages, to be driven at once to the Davis home.

At the home the guests were met in the large parlor by Mrs. Davis, then passed along to Senator Davis who introduced them to Mrs. Lindsay, the mother of the groom; thence to the bride and groom. Also receiving were Miss Hotchkiss and Miss Lighthill.
Hearty good wishes were extended the bride and groom and the guests universally remarked the beauty of the former and the manliness of the latter.

The bridal party, numbering sixteen, sat down to a long table decorated with flowers and ribbons, and bearing refreshments. This party was of course the one about which the chief-most interest centered. In front of each guest were two boxes—opened just before arising. The boxes contained wedding cake and a ring for each lady and wedding cake and a pair of cuff buttons for each gentleman.

The guests were invited into the dining room by Mrs. Torpy and Mrs.
West, and when in the dining room were taken gracefully into charge by Mrs. Will Lord and Mrs. Winifred Lain. At a table in the center of the room sat Miss Jessie Knowles and Miss Edna Grafton, serving coffee. Mrs. J.
W. Sniffen, Miss Buchanan and Miss Shurick attentively saw that all the guests were cared for.

The presents—well, they were in greatest profusion, and surpassing fine.
Handsome chairs, tables, cut glass, silverware, carving sets, candelabra, vases, embroidery, pictures, statuary—a perfect maze of useful and pretty things.

The house, as well as the church was lavishly trimmed with palms, ferns smilax and roses.

As to dresses:

The bride was clad in white satin en traine, trimmed in embroidered chiffon and point lace. She wore a long tulle veil, caught at the forehead by a dazzling diamond ornament, a gift of the groom. She also carried a huge bunch of bride roses.

Miss Hotchkiss was gowned in white satin, trimmed in spangled chiffon, and she carried gorgeous chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were dressed alike in fluffy, white organdie, with white ribbon at neck and waist. They each carried a big bouquet of American Beauty roses, tied with long ribbon to match.

The bridesmaids were Miss Hotchkiss, Miss Grace Davis, Miss Lindsay, Miss Mary Hall, Miss Helen Hall, Miss Riley and Miss Rathbone.

The groom's best man was Mr. J. A.
Aull, of Pittsburg. The ushers were Mr. Rodney Barker, Mr. C. W. Hotchkiss, Mr. H. M. Lindsay, Mr. Edward Goehring, Mr. James Monroe and Mr.
C. F. Moore.

Visitors from a distance were Mrs.
Lindsay, Miss Sarah Lindsay, Miss Lighthill, Mr. and Mrs. Will Henry, Mr. Flint and Mr. Brown, all of Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hotchkiss, Mr. Albert Davis, Mr. Will Gill, of Cleveland; Miss Conrad, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Isaac Cooke, of Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Curtis, of Chicago; Miss Snodgrass, of Parkersburg; Mrs. Nichols, of Philadelphia.

To dream over, each guest received on departing, a tiny package of cake tied with a white ribbon.

The bridal couple left for the East on the 11:25 train, bound for—no one except the bride and groom knew whither.

To Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsay the Leader extends its best wishes for their future happiness.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Callouette, Druggist, Beavers-ville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again.
It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it."

ON THE RIVER.

Items of Interest Picked up Along the Ohio.

The steamer H. K. Bedford was up from Charleston Wednesday for Pittsburg with a fine trip. The Kanawha was down Wednesday evening.

Capt. Booth has returned from a trip to Pittsburg and is now devoting his attention to looking after the interests of his wharfbrook property. Since purchasing the wharfbrook Capt. Booth and Mr. Hornbrooke have had several good offers for it, but have so far refused to sell.

The Valley Belle arrived from Middletown Wednesday evening and leaves on her return trip this morning at 9 a. m.

A fierce rate war is being waged between the Lexington and Argand above New Matamoras and both boats are making it cheaper for people to travel than to stay at home. For some time the fare between Wheeling and New Matamoras has been only 25 cents on account of the keen competition, but this week the Argand had the nerve to reduce it to 20 cents, and there is now a prospect that other cuts will follow, with the possible result that passengers will eventually be paid for making the trip.

The river has started on another slight rise above and it is now practically settled that the stage of water will remain sufficiently high for navigation until it is stopped by winter.

The work of repairing the landing at the foot of Front street is proceeding steadily and the contractor, Mr. D. P.
Price, is doing a good job. Council still has several hundred dollars to spend on the improvement and the landing will be put in first-class condition.

Capt. W. D. Holmes, of Point Pleasant, has sold his wharfbrook to Capt. J.
W. Stone, owner of the ferries at that place.

The first of the pair of middle gates for the ice harbor lock was completed Wednesday and will be swung into place today. The second gate will be finished in a few days and it is expected to have the pair in working order to lock the Lorena through on her regular trip next week.
